at home, Sydney

1 Lunatiques Visits to this sprawling vintage-lovers mecca can very quickly push out past the one hour mark because there are so many incredible one-off pieces to discover. I love the place so darn much, I hired it out for my book launch in 2019. Lunatiques.com

2 Garden Life When you step inside this lush, green oasis, you tend to forget it's located on a busy highway! I shop here for gifts, new botanical buddies and gardening tools. Gardenlife.com.au

3 Maison Balzac Coloured glassware makes me so happy, especially when it's in shades of amber or green. Every visit to Maison Balzac's sweet boutique ends in smiles and some kind of purchase. Maisonbalzac.com

4 Salvos Stores (Tempe) I'm a diehard op shopper who comes from a long line of thrifters. The Tempe Salvos is arguably the biggest op shop in Sydney, and my recent thrifty wins here include an Isabel Marant top, cool coffee table books and seventies Levi's. Salvosstores.com.au

Objects of desire Coucou and Margot vases in assorted colours, Maison Balzac.

online

5 Handcrafted Any platform that supports independent Australian furniture and object designers has my vote. I have my eye on the stunning Stella table lamp by ILANEL and the Lila armchairs by Ben Percy. Handcrafted.com

6 Madre Natura An ethos of sustainability and circularity drives this Sydney-based fashion label. Denim and tees are my wardrobe mainstays, so Madre Natura's casual separates work for me, especially the striped Grevillea tee. Madrenatura.com.au

7 Southern Wild Co Richly scented candles crafted locally and inspired by the essence of the Australian landscape. Everything they do is beautiful and heartfelt. My favourite scents are Sirens and Hidden Vale. Southernwildco.com.au

8 Etsy Etsy is filled with vintage finds and artisan objects. Once you get your search terms right, the treasures abound. My recent purchases include an incredible handmade Moroccan rug and a super fun print by the pop art icon Keith Haring. Etsy.com/au

abroad

9 Papercut, Stockholm I love books and magazines, and Papercut's range of niche titles floors me. On my last visit, I discovered MacGuffin: The Life of Things, a design mag from Amsterdam that dedicates each issue to one ordinary object. Papercutshop.se

10 Liberty London, London Oscar Wilde once said, "Liberty is the chosen resort of the artistic shopper", and I believe it to be true. Located in an iconic historic building, the department store is a jewel box of highly covetable items and theatrical displays. Libertylondon.com

11 Roman and Williams Guild, New York These design gods can do no wrong in my eyes, and the world they have created at Guild is no exception. I dream about one day owning their Catalpa sofa, a truly sublime piece. Rwguild.com

12 Nudie Jeans Co, worldwide I'm denim-obsessed with a soft spot for Swedish brand Nudie and its commitment to sustainability. I recently scored a pair of pre-loved jeans from their Re-use range. They are artfully patched up and perfectly worn in. As all denim should be. Nudiejeans.com 🍷
